Dear Steve,

Turner Construction Company has enjoyed an open and trusting relationship with MSC for many years. The many projects completed by your company have done much to enhance Turner's brand image and have resulted in many cutting edge, award winning products.

I believe that one reason we have succeeded as a team has been related to your professional staff recognizing how deeply involved we at Turner like to be in every project. The resulting patience demonstrated by your side during the development of these projects has been appreciated. I think the real effort and resulting high quality work result can be felt by us all in the end.

The second reason involves cost. Your company has always worked with us to stay within our available budgets. You have generally been very competitive with pricing and have been professional when an award did not go your way. This principle of conduct has served your company well in the long run.

The third reason for respecting our relationship is based on your consistent interest in your company's performance of work and willingness to stand behind your work product. There has never been any doubt about your caring about our being satisfied.

We look forward to more years of mutually respectful relations with MSC.

Best regards,
